Municipal Liability Issues

League Mutual Insurance discusses current trends

Land Use, Employment Claims and Police Claims are three big areas that create contentious claims against municipal liability insurance. This workshop will explain what the trends in risks and coverage could mean to your municipality. Participants will learn recommendations from the experts at League Mutual and will have the opportunity to ask questions.

Joseph Wirth

Partner

Piper, Schmidt & Wirth

For more than 30 years, Joseph Wirth has represented and defended municipalities, insurance companies, corporations – as well as their officials, insureds and employees in the evaluation of, and defense against, civil lawsuits and claims for damages.

Joe earned his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Houston, and he is a 1987 graduate of the University of Wisconsin Law School.

Joe has represented municipalities in matters ranging from land use and administrative decision-making, to police and policy disputes, as well as personal injury and property damage claims. He practices in both state and federal courts throughout Wisconsin.
